

One Giant Leap, Inc. (OGL), a non-profit organization, is working to bring former NASA astronaut and Eagle Scout Joe Tanner to the First Centennial New England Scout Show at the DCU Center in Worcester, Massachusetts on January 23, 2010.

To underwrite Tanner’s presentation to the Boy Scouts, OGL has arranged for the mission specialist and his fellow STS-66 crew member Scott Parazynski to sign a limited edition series of high quality prints.

Your choice of authentically-autographed 16-by-20-inch prints of either Tanner or Parazynski can be yours for a donation of only $100. Tanner’s photo shows him during the STS-97 mission spacewalking outside the International Space Station. Parazynski’s shot has him working as far away from the outpost as one can get while still-tethered, after he delicately repaired a torn solar array during STS-120.

Your generous donation will help inspire hundreds of young minds and get them excited about their future in space. Please indicate your choice of print(s) below.
