EMBROIDERED PATCH

CELEBRATING APOLLO 11

Jerry Czubinski, Andrew Li and graphic artist Eric Pickett have teamed together to created this commemorative design to honor the men and women who together put America onto the Moon. This will be a 4" x 6" fully embroidered Limited Edition run of 150 patches. Eric will be willing to sign the patch for anyone who requests it.

We believe that it is a beautiful design representing the many elements of the manned lunar space program, both past and future. As you can see on the right, the 3 white stars represent astronauts and workers involved with the Mercury, Gemini, and Apollo missions. The yellow/gold star represents the astronauts who lost their lives. On the left side is a star at the lunar horizon that represents the future astronauts who will return to the moon and go beyond to Mars, the red circle. Finally the eagle is landing on the "40th" carrying an olive branch in its beak representing the entire people on Earth, "We Come in Peace for All Mankind."
